Preface

If educational organizations are to concentrate all their energies and resources on successful student learning, a holistic, honest examination of the actual program for students is required. Through the use of empowering criteria, new communication patterns, evidence gathering techniques, and insight from fellow educators, the appropriate accreditation process can serve as a vehicle to move school community members into meaningful schoolwide improvement and accountability. The Accrediting Commission for Schools, Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), utilizes a protocol for accrediting schools entitled Focus on Learning as part of a cycle of continuous school improvement.

The Focus on Learning process has been widely accepted throughout the WASC region as integral to the “heart” of education—successful student learning. This has been demonstrated through a variety of Focus on Learning adaptations as WASC works jointly with numerous educational associations. Public, independent and church-related private K–12 and adult schools value the “basic components” of Focus on Learning that can be “institutionalized” as the schools address growth areas that impact student learning. These include: (1) the defining of quality achievement of expected schoolwide learning results for every student by all stakeholders; (2) schoolwide interdisciplinary dialogue based on evidence gathering and analysis about what students are doing and producing; and (3) the development, implementation, and accomplishment of a schoolwide action plan. Therefore, all schools view the Focus on Learning process as a living document.
The Big Picture
Focus on Learning: Overview

Background

The accreditation process for WASC resulted from intensive work of an advisory group composed of representatives from the WASC region. They synthesized the issues and concerns from the WASC constituency with current thinking and research-based knowledge about teaching and learning. The basic concepts addressed in this process focus upon student success in meeting the expected schoolwide learning results or schoolwide learner outcomes [i.e., what each student should know, understand and be able to do upon exit (graduation) from the school, or by the time the student completes the planned program]. For many years, schools of The Lutheran Church – Missouri Synod (LCMS) have used the WASC accreditation protocol to evaluate:

1. How its students are doing with respect to the expected schoolwide learning results or schoolwide learner outcomes and academic standards?
2. Is our school doing everything possible to support high achievement of these results for all its students?

LCMS schools have long valued the WASC accreditation process as an outstanding tool to evaluate schoolwide learning results and student achievement.

Recently, the National Lutheran School Accreditation (NLSA) has entered into negotiations with WASC to develop a single integrated document that embraces the high quality of WASC accreditation with an integrated and intentional study of the Lutheran cultural identity of schools operating in The Lutheran Church – Missouri Synod. After careful collaboration of respected NLSA constituents and consideration by WASC we have arrived upon a single integrated document that accomplishes the purposes of WASC and ensures the Lutheran cultural identity of LCMS Schools. This will allow our schools to use a single document and process to define and evaluate its purpose as a Lutheran school as well as the impact of its instructive process upon student learners.

Focus on Learning and School Change

To ensure that the critical elements of school change were integral to the Focus on Learning design, the following specific features are included:

- The clarification of the school’s purpose and schoolwide learner outcomes or schoolwide learner outcomes for all students
- The involvement of the school community in self-directed problem-solving
- The opportunity for the following:
  - analysis of the actual program for students
  - meaningful dialogue
  - collaboration and shared decision-making analysis of the mission of both the school and congregation and the unity evident between church and school

- The use of high-quality criteria to analyze the program for students
- The development of a schoolwide action plan to support desired learning results
- The opportunity for an outside perspective regarding the proposed changes through the Visiting Committee’s dialogue and findings
- The monitoring of progress in meeting or redefining goals and actions through accreditation reviews and reports.

Criteria

The criteria are research-based guidelines of systemic school improvement that address accreditation’s central tenet: a school operates with a clear understanding of its purpose.

The criteria were developed with the assistance of numerous practicing educational leaders and theorists. The objective was to develop criteria that brought attention to concepts and factors that differentiate between effective and ineffective schools. Since most formal education occurs in an institutional setting, factors that impact institutional effectiveness were considered along with curriculum, instructional strategies and assessment.

Specifically, in Focus on Learning, the schools will be assessed against four categories of criteria. These are:

- Organization for Student Learning
- Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment
- Support for Student Personal and Academic Growth
- Resource Management and Development

Importance of School’s Purpose and Expected Schoolwide Learning Results

An essential element of systemic school improvement is the collective vision or statement of purpose on the part of the members of the school community: What should students know and be able to do upon exit from the school? What does it mean to be an educated person? What is the most effective preparation of students for the future? What does it mean to have a unified mission between church and school?

The purpose provides the school’s foundation for establishing expected schoolwide learning result or schoolwide learner outcomes. These state the global knowledge, skills, and understanding students should possess upon exit from the school, or by the time the student completes the planned program. The attainment of these schoolwide learner outcomes drives the instructional program and the support operations of the school and therefore is integral to the school’s accreditation process. These learner outcomes complement the more specific curricular standards.

Importance of Evidence

Translating the school’s purpose into expected schoolwide learning results or schoolwide learner outcomes for all students is a beginning. The self-study phase of the accreditation process revolves around an in-depth gathering of evidence that will enable a school to take an honest look at what is and isn’t working based upon the criteria and the schoolwide learner outcomes. This verification is key to learning about the actual instruction experienced by students.

Observable evidence includes analyzing the following:

- what students are doing and producing (student work)
- student interviews and observations
- hard data and information, e.g., student indicators for attendance, special needs, schoolwide performance
- other interviews, observations, etc.

Accreditation Cycle

The accreditation process is a perpetual cycle of assessment, planning, implementing, monitoring, and reassessment (self-study, visit, and follow-up). During the year prior to the visit, a school clarifies or redefines its expected schoolwide learning results and begins the formal self-study process that assesses the actual student program with respect to the criteria. The self-study process culminates in the development of a 3–5 year schoolwide action plan. The completed school report is sent to the Visiting Committee Members for careful study at least four to five weeks prior to their spring visit. Using the results of the visit, the school modifies and implements its action plan in this ongoing cycle of improvement.

WASC/NLSA Six-Year Cycle for Schools

Past Cycle — Year Six: Completion of Self-Study/Visit/Refinement of Strategic Plan

New Cycle:

Year One: Profile Update, Progress Report, Refinement of Schoolwide Action Plan submitted with evidence in the NLSA Annual Report

Year Two: Profile update, Progress Report, refinement of Schoolwide Action Plan submitted with evidence in the NLSA Annual Report

Year Three: Profile update, Midterm Progress Report and One-Day Review), Refinement of Schoolwide Action Plan submitted with the VC report in place of the NLSA Annual Report

Year Four: Profile Update, Progress Report, Refinement of Schoolwide Action Plan submitted with evidence in the NLSA Annual Report
Year Five: Review of all profile data, Progress Report, Progress and Program Analysis (beginning of next Self-Study), revision of Schoolwide Action Plan submitted with evidence in the NLSA Annual Report

Year Six: Completion of Self-Study, including refinement of Schoolwide Action Plan, visit by WASC Team, revision of Schoolwide Action Plan after Visit

Parameters for Analysis in Self-Study

The school’s self study is predicated on five key components. Through the completion of the accreditation process, the school will have accomplished:

1. the involvement and collaboration of stakeholders in the self-study.
2. the clarification of the school’s purpose and the schoolwide learner outcomes.
3. the assessment of the actual student program and its impact on student learning with respect to the criteria and the schoolwide learner outcomes.
4. the development of a schoolwide action plan that integrates subject area/program and support plans to address identified growth needs.
5. the development and implementation of an accountability system for monitoring the accomplishment of the action plan.

Flexibility

As long as the school adheres to the parameters for analysis, there is flexibility in the self-study process. For your assistance a model is provided. If the school modifies the model to accommodate a particular school community, it should explain how the previously listed parameters have been met.

Model Self-Study Process

The committee structure should provide a vehicle for the school and community members to examine the program for students collaboratively. After gathering of evidence, including the examination of student work from their respective areas of expertise, the various Subject Area/Support Committees contribute much of the information for these interdisciplinary group discussions. The resulting schoolwide action plan reflects the analyses by all school and community stakeholders.

The tasks of the self-study focus on evaluating the school against the criteria and assessing the degree to which all students are achieving the expected schoolwide learning results. These steps are given below:

Task 1: Refine the student and community profile.
Responsible Committees: Student/Community Profile Committee
Leadership Team

Task 2: Clarify the school’s purpose and the expected schoolwide learning results or schoolwide learner outcomes.
Task 3: Summarize progress on schoolwide action plan that integrated identified critical areas for follow-up since previous full self-study.

Task 4: Using the WASC/NLSA Criteria, the schoolwide learner outcomes (including the identified critical academic needs):
- Analyze the quality of the school program.
- Synthesize and summarize the findings.
- Determine aligned strengths and growth needs.

Task 5: Revise or create a comprehensive action plan that will drive achievement of the expected schoolwide learning results or schoolwide learner outcomes.

Establish an ongoing follow-up process to monitor implementation and accomplishment of the schoolwide action plan.

Visit

After careful study of the School Report, a Visiting Committee composed of fellow educators spends three and one-half days at the school. The purpose of the visit is to provide an outside perspective from educators who are thoroughly familiar with the criteria used by the school.

The Visiting Committee gives insight to the school through dialogue with the Schoolwide Focus Groups and the Stakeholder/Program Committees or Home Groups about the self-study findings and by its own gathering of evidence and analysis of student work. In collaboration the Visiting Committee and the Leadership Team/Schoolwide Focus Groups compare findings. The resulting discussion and written results assist the school in refining the schoolwide action plan with respect to the criteria and the schoolwide learner outcomes.

Accreditation Term Factors

The Accrediting Commission for Schools grants accreditation based on the findings of the Visiting Committee. Accreditation factors have been developed by the Commission that reflect the overall aspects of the ongoing school improvement process or accreditation. These factors have incorporated the five parameters of analysis in the self-study process, the WASC criteria organized by categories, and important emphases already present within the WASC criteria. These factors are the following:
1. Involvement and collaboration of stakeholders in the self-study that accomplishes the five parameters of the self-study.

2. The defining of the school’s purpose through schoolwide learner outcomes and academic standards.

3. The use of a professionally acceptable assessment process to collect, disaggregate, and analyze student performance data.

4. The acceptable progress by all students toward clearly defined schoolwide learner outcomes, academic standards, and other institutional and/or governing authority expectations.

5. An Organization for Student Learning that supports high achievement for all students.

6. Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment that supports high achievement for all students.

7. Support for Student Personal and Academic Growth that supports high achievement for all students.

8. Resource Management and Development that supports high achievement for all students.

9. The alignment of a long-range schoolwide action plan to the school’s areas of greatest need to support high achievement of all students.

10. The capacity to monitor and implement the schoolwide action plan.

11. The use of prior accreditation findings and other pertinent data to ensure high achievement of all students and drive school improvement.

Follow-up

Subsequent to the visit, the school refines and implements the action plan. The Leadership Team will coordinate this implementation, annual review of progress, and the refinement of the "next steps" in meeting the goals. All follow-up is done with respect to evidence that students are accomplishing the established schoolwide learner outcomes. The governing authority is involved in the ongoing improvement process to ensure that the follow-up process is integral to planning and goal setting. Essentially, every year between intervening self-studies, the school completes an annual report to NLSA to ensure an ongoing “nonhyperventilating” process. These annual reports will track and give evidence to progress made or refinement to the schoolwide action plan and critical areas of recommendation as outlined by the VC report.

The Self-Study: Background Information
Self-Study Coordinator Guidelines

Getting Started: School Year Prior to Year of Self-Study/Visit, September–June

1. Chief Administrator/Self-Study Coordinator (SC) participate in training

2. Chief Administrator and SC establish (1) a general calendar for the major self-study events and (2) a more detailed timeline of specific committee meetings and tasks to be accomplished

   The self-study coordinator works backwards from the date of the visit, allowing at least four to five weeks for the Visiting Committee to study the school report.

3. Chief Administrator and SC establish support mechanisms

   Working with the SC, the chief administrator ensures there are support mechanisms, such as governing authority and district understanding and assistance, professional time for staff members, financial resources and clerical/technical help.

4. SC orients staff and other school community member groups

   This orientation should include:

   a. An explanation of the WASC/NLSA accreditation process and its benefits to the school community

   b. An overview of the Focus on Learning self-study process

   c. The nature and purpose of the visit

   d. Accreditation term factors

   e. The importance of the ongoing improvement process for successful student learning

5. SC and chief administrator appoint chairs for all committees

   The committees for the model self-study process include: Schoolwide Focus Groups, Student/Community Profile Committee, Student/Parent Groups, Subject Area/Program Committees, Support Staff Groups. The Leadership Team is composed of the Schoolwide Focus Group chairs, the SC, the chief administrator and other selected members.
6. SC prepares self-study packets

Suggested information for the self-study packets include: the overview, general and specific timeline, committee structure and membership, summary of products (Self-Study Report format), self-study steps, and all criteria with indicators, suggested areas to analyze, and sample prompts. Add to the packets after their development or refinement, the student/community profile and the expected schoolwide learning results.

7. SC trains Leadership Team and chairs of all committees (the local LCMS district office will assist in the training process)

Training should emphasize:

A Few Notes

Taking Those First Steps: School year prior to year of self-study/visit, September–January

Task 1

✓ Student and Parent Committees administer surveys or conduct interviews, share results with Student/Community Profile Committee

The school is not required to conduct student/parent surveys for the self-study process; data may be gathered through other means, e.g., interviews. The school will be expected to explain how the information was gathered.

Creating the Whole: School year prior to and year of self-study/visit, February–January

Tasks 4–5

✓ Chief administrator and SC serve as a continual resource to Schoolwide Focus Groups and Home Groups. Chief administrator and SC meet regularly with the Leadership Team

Throughout the self-study, the SC helps the committees understand the process, assists in arrangements for collecting information, and helps with any difficulties. Essentially, the SC is a leader, coordinator, facilitator, and troubleshooter.
10. SC submits the self-study report after final Leadership Team review.

SC arranges for the printing of an adequate number of copies and distributes them to the following people/organizations:

a. The Visiting Committee Members

b. One copy of the report on the following forms of electronic media: CD, DVD, or USB flash drive (reference and support materials are not required) to:

   - Accrediting Commission for Schools
   - Western Association of Schools and Colleges
   - 533 Airport Boulevard, Suite 200
   - Burlingame, CA 94010

   - St. Louis, MO 63122

c. One copy of the report on CD to the local LCMS district office

d. Copies for staff members and members of the school community

The local LCMS district office will assign a consultant to the school at the beginning of the process.

TASKS

Home Groups:

Leadership Team:
Facilitate the clarification of schoolwide learner outcomes and development of a schoolwide action plan, based on focus group findings supported by observable evidence.
School Committees

Addresses Self-Study Parameter #1: The involvement and collaboration of stakeholders in the self-study.

A typical committee structure includes three types: Home Groups, interdisciplinary Focus Groups, and the Leadership Team. Each level of responsibility serves a different function. Home groups engage all staff within their local communities of interest or responsibility. Focus groups create teams incorporating representatives from all the Home Groups who examine criteria and schoolwide learner outcomes from an interdisciplinary perspective; and the Leadership Team coordinates the entire process and synthesizes Focus Group findings into a workable schoolwide action plan.

Leadership Team

Leadership Team Tasks:

- Facilitate entire self-study process
- Facilitate completion of Progress Report on action plan since last full self-study (Chapter III)
- Guide school through development and refinement of schoolwide learner outcomes (Chapter II)
- Create a schoolwide action plan for identified growth areas using findings of Schoolwide Focus Groups (Chapter V)
- Obtain feedback from Focus Groups and Home Groups and gain consensus regarding the schoolwide action plan (Chapter V)
- Coordinate the follow-up process to monitor the implementation and the accomplishment of the schoolwide action plan (Chapter V)

Student/Community Profile Committee

The Student/Community Profile Committee is typically made up of one or more administrators, certified staff members, students, community members or parents where applicable, and sometimes a central office representative. They undertake to create the first concrete product of the self-study process: the profile of the school and its community, which provides context to the rest of the self-study. Members of this committee will also serve on the other school committees as the self-study proceeds.

Student/Community Profile Committee Tasks:

- Select, gather, and analyze all pertinent data that is relevant to the success of students in the school.
- Draft the student/community profile, including student achievement data, important socio-economic and demographic data and perception data. Analyze the data.
- Validate through communication with all staff and prepare a summary that includes appropriate charts, graphs, and tables.
Home Groups

Home groups can be organized by subject, by site, by program or employee job type, or according to other criteria. However they are constructed, Home Groups provide much of the core evidence collection and evaluation work upon which the self-study process is based.

Subject Area or Program Group Tasks:

- Study and understand the student/community profile
- Participate in the development of schoolwide learner outcomes
- Understand concepts of WASC/NLSA criteria related to student learning
- Gather and analyze the evidence to demonstrate student performance within group’s program or curricular area in relation to schoolwide learner outcomes, curricular program standards, and WASC/NLSA criteria
- Provide results of this analysis to Focus Groups
- Provide feedback to Leadership Team on the schoolwide action plan based on Focus Group findings and growth areas

Support Staff Group Tasks:

- Study and understand the student/community profile
- Participate in the development of schoolwide learner outcomes
- Understand concepts of WASC/NLSA criteria related to student learning
- Gather and analyze evidence to demonstrate how support services (1) contribute to student performance in relation to schoolwide learner outcomes, (2) meet program or service standards for various support areas, and (3) meet the WASC/NLSA criteria
- Provide results of analysis to Focus Groups
- Provide feedback to Leadership Team on schoolwide action plan based on Focus Group findings and growth areas

Parent/Community Group Tasks:

- Contribute to development of the student/community profile
- Study and understand the student/community profile
- Participate in the development of schoolwide learner outcomes
- Understand concepts of WASC/NLSA criteria related to student learning
- Gather and analyze evidence which illustrates from a community perspective how well school programs and services contribute to student performance in relation to schoolwide learner outcomes, current and emerging community needs, and the WASC/NLSA criteria
- Provide results of analysis to Focus Groups
- Provide feedback to Leadership Team on schoolwide action plan based on Focus Group findings and growth needs

Student Group Tasks:

- Contribute to development of the student profile
- Study and understand the student/community profile
- Participate in the development of schoolwide learner outcomes
- Understand concepts of WASC/NLSA criteria related to student learning
- Gather and analyze evidence which illustrates from a student perspective how well school programs and services contribute to student performance in relation to schoolwide learner outcomes, current and emerging student needs, and the WASC/NLSA criteria
- Provide results of analysis to Focus Groups
- Provide feedback to Leadership Team on schoolwide action plan based on Focus Group findings and growth areas

Focus Groups

A Focus Group is composed of certified staff members representing all the Home Groups, and other stakeholders; the suggested size of a group is twelve to fifteen. Focus groups are schoolwide and interdisciplinary. There will usually be one Focus Group for each of the criteria categories (Organization for Student Learning; Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment; Support for Student Personal and Academic Growth; and Resource Management and Development). Focus Groups synthesize the findings from the Home Groups in terms of the WASC criteria and the schoolwide learner outcomes.

Every certified staff member is expected to serve on both a Home Group and a Focus Group; the ideal is for all other support staff and representatives of other stakeholders to do likewise. However, in some situations, the membership of Focus Groups may not all be inclusive. Large schools may have more than one Focus Group for each category, while smaller schools may find that using a “Committee of the Whole” to work with all categories will be more effective.

Focus Group Tasks:

- Obtain ongoing feedback from Home Groups throughout process of Focus Group synthesis.
- With respect to each WASC/NLSA criterion, examine and analyze the data from the Home Groups about student learning in relation to the schoolwide learner outcomes and current program standards. This analysis should be organized by WASC/NLSA criteria and cut across curricular, role, and program boundaries.
- Identify the school’s growth needs.
- If more than one Focus Group is examining the same criterion, integrate their findings, supporting evidence, and growth areas into the final Self-Study Report.
- Obtain feedback from Home Groups on the growth areas with respect to the schoolwide learner outcomes.
- Synthesize findings and supporting evidence, and identify growth areas for each of the WASC/NLSA criteria (3–7 pages per criterion, Chapter IV).
- Have available for the Visiting Team evidence for review that has been examined by the school’s Home and Focus Groups.

- Will the action plan sections enhance the learning of all students as identified in the student/community profile?
- Are the schoolwide learner outcomes being addressed through the action plan?
- Has the school integrated other initiatives to create one “umbrella” schoolwide action plan?
- Is the action plan feasible and realistic? Are resources considered for each action plan section?
- Do the ways of assessing progress include the analysis of student learning?
- Is there sufficient schoolwide commitment to the action plan?
- Is there a sound follow-up process that will be used to monitor the accomplishment of the action plan?
Task 1: Refine the student/community profile

Addresses Self-Study Parameter #1: The involvement and collaboration of stakeholders in the self-study.

The student/community profile or school portfolio is a summary of demographic, achievement, perception and other data that will answer questions such as: What are the characteristics of the community served by the school? What are their needs in relation to education and employment? Who are the students? How are the students performing? Through this profile the school clarifies its identity, purpose and documents the client’s needs and resources. This profile is a critical piece in the subsequent analytical work based on the WASC/NLSA criteria in which the school evaluates the existing program to determine its effectiveness in supporting high-quality student learning.

Players

Student/Community Profile Committee

Procedures

1. Select all pertinent data that is relevant to the success of students in your school. (Suggested categories of information are listed in this task).

This narrative should include important socio-economic and demographic data about the students and community, a specific summary of current student performance and any identified trends that have impacted the school.
4. Disseminate the draft to all staff, make modifications.
5. Prepare final summary profile.
   - Include in the Self-Study Report along with supporting charts, graphs and data.

Schoolwide Focus Group analysis and synthesis around the criteria and preparation of three to seven page summary for each criterion within the four categories

Home/Support Groups analysis and discussions around subject area/support curricular/program references and the WASC criteria
Task 4: Using the WASC/NLSA criteria and the schoolwide learner outcomes, analyze the quality of the school program, synthesize and summarize the findings and determine aligned strengths and growth needs

Addresses Self-Study Parameter #3: The assessment of the actual student program and its impact on student learning with respect to the criteria and the schoolwide learner outcomes.

Players

Schoolwide Focus Groups | Home Groups
Leadership Team

Procedures:

Through Schoolwide Focus Group and Home Group work:

1. Ensure awareness of the summary information from the student/community profile, especially the critical academic needs, and the schoolwide learner outcomes. Ensure understanding of the relationship between the identified critical academic needs and the schoolwide learner outcomes. (See Tasks 1 and 2.)

2. Ensure all stakeholders are aware of the concepts of the WASC/NLSA criteria as the basis for evaluating the school’s program. Use the criteria indicators, suggested areas to analyze, and sample prompts. (See the Tools section.)

Schoolwide Focus Groups:

3. Identify what data or information, especially the student work, should be examined to facilitate this comparison. Begin to discuss how the data or information should be obtained. What is needed from the Home Groups? Refer to the criteria indicators, suggested areas to analyze, and sample prompts. (See the Tools section.)

4. Work with the Leadership Team (includes leaders of Schoolwide Focus Groups) to schedule and plan the Home Group and additional Schoolwide Focus Group meetings to accomplish this gathering and analyzing of pertinent data.

⇒ Note: To facilitate data gathering and analysis, concentrate on one category of criteria at a time; for example, start with curriculum, instruction, and assessment, then move to student support, organization, and resources.

Home Groups:

5. At the request of the respective Schoolwide Focus Groups, gather and examine the needed information with respect to the WASC/NLSA criteria and the schoolwide learner outcomes. (The Schoolwide Focus Groups will guide the Home Groups in this analysis.)
making use of the criteria indicators, the suggested areas to analyze, and the suggested prompts).

a. Use appropriate methods to gather the information, especially focusing on what all students are doing and producing currently. Examples of ways to gather evidence include:
   – observing what all students are doing and producing – examining samples of work for all students from all subject areas/programs
   – interviewing students about their studies and school life – examining student performance-based assessment data – reporting by teachers
   – examining the student/community profile data – examining student/parent survey/interview results
   – interviewing other members of the staff/school community about program

b. Discuss, analyze and synthesize this gathered evidence with respect to the WASC/NLSA criteria and schoolwide learner outcomes, including the critical academic needs.

c. Compile this data and share with the appropriate Schoolwide Focus Group.

d. Have on exhibit for the Visiting Committee Members representative student work that was examined and other analyzed information (results of observations, interviews, etc.).

Schoolwide Focus Groups:

Based on the following question:

How does the current school program impact student learning, especially for the identified critical academic needs, related schoolwide learner outcomes and curricular standards?

6. Discuss the information and data gathered and analyzed by Home Groups. (Were the important questions related to identified critical academic needs discussed?)

7. Determine what additional information and data is needed in the analysis of the schoolwide program. This will necessitate well-organized meetings of Home Groups and Schoolwide Focus Groups over an extended period of time (see timeline).

8. Synthesize the information and data from all the Home Groups in preparation for a 3–7 page summary of findings for each criterion that includes supporting evidence and identified growth needs.

The Visit
Self-Study Coordinator Visit Guidelines

1. Self-Study Coordinator (SC) and Visiting Committee Chairperson communicate prior to visit. Additionally your local LCMS district office will assign a consultant to you at the beginning of your self-study year.

Prior to the visit, the Visiting Committee Chairperson will be in communication with the SC and chief administrator to answer questions and give assistance. The chief administrator and the chairperson should establish a date for a preliminary visit for schools located in California. Chairs for schools in Hawaii should communicate by letter, fax, phone, or email. Through this contact, the Chair will become familiar with the school, determine the self-study progress, offer guidance in conducting the self-study, and begin to develop a detailed schedule for the visit. Chairs in California may spend more than one full day at the school in preparation for the visit.

Questions the chairperson will discuss during the preliminary visit and through continual contact with the school include:

   a. How are the parameters of the self-study addressed in the self-study process? In what ways have the school leaders modified the model self-study process to accommodate the school community?

   b. How is the school developing or clarifying expected schoolwide learning results (schoolwide learner outcomes) for the school?

   c. What is the plan for involving all staff members and representatives of the other stakeholders in reviewing the instructional program with respect to the criteria and the expected schoolwide learning results (schoolwide learner outcomes)?

   d. How are the staff members and other stakeholders taking an in-depth look at the program for all students: access to and participation in the core curriculum, support, and attainment of the expected schoolwide learning results (schoolwide learner outcomes)? What methods are they using? (e.g., observing and examining what students are doing, interviewing students and others, examining pertinent student and other data)

   e. Is the schoolwide action plan based on findings of the Schoolwide Focus Groups and is it realistic, specific, and meaningful with respect to the expected schoolwide learning results (schoolwide learner outcomes)? How has the school provided a “feedback loop” to all stakeholders regarding the action plan? Can the action steps be implemented immediately within existing resources?

   f. How will the schedule for the visit permit adequate dialogue with the Leadership Team and Schoolwide Focus Groups regarding self-study findings, thereby building the trust and rapport necessary for communication and collaboration?
g. How will the Leadership Team ensure that there is a workable follow-up process to implement and monitor the action plan?

2. SC makes housing and visit arrangements for the Visiting Committee.

The SC arranges housing and adequate work space for the Visiting Committee. There should be an area for exhibit materials that support the self-study in the work space. Word processing and copy services should be made available to the Visiting Committee.

3. After the Self-Study Report is completed, the SC and Visiting Committee Chairperson finalize the schedule for the visit.

4. During the month prior to the visit, the SC and the Leadership Team continue discussion of the implementation of the schoolwide action plan.

   Staff members and other stakeholders review the schoolwide action plan, their respective subject area/support strategies, and the reports by the Schoolwide Focus Groups; they provide feedback to their committee chairpersons. Using this information, the Leadership Team continues to refine the schoolwide action plan. The Leadership Team will share these ideas with the Visiting Committee.

5. SC completes preparation for the WASC/NLSA Visiting Committee visit.

   SC verifies all preliminary Visiting Committee visit arrangements: housing, word processing and copy services, school map, school master classroom schedule, parking facilities, name tags, etc. SC ensures the workroom and exhibits, including portfolios, are available.

6. During the three and one-half day visit, the stakeholders discuss specific issues of the self-study with the Visiting Committee.

   In this process, the Visiting Committee will have extensive dialogue with the Schoolwide Focus Groups and the Leadership Team. Important to these sessions and the subject area/support group meetings will be the Visiting Committee’s examination and understanding of the information and evidence that supported the schoolwide findings. Throughout the visit the Visiting Committee Chairperson will regularly communicate with the chief administrator, the self-study coordinator and the Leadership Team regarding the visiting team’s findings.

7. The Visiting Committee prepares a report and presents findings.

8. The SC sends 5 (five) copies of the Visiting Committee Report to WASC and distributes copies to all stakeholder groups.

9. After the visit, the SC facilitates the integration of the narrative suggestions and critical areas for follow-up left by the Visiting Committee in the report into the schoolwide action plan. The school sends one copy of the modified plan to the WASC office and distributes copies to all stakeholder groups.
IMPORTANT REMINDER: The SC should distribute the Self-Study Report after final Leadership Team review. The SC arranges for the printing of an adequate number of copies and distributes the report to the following people/organizations four to five weeks before the visit:

Accreditation Term Determination*

The Visiting Committee will recommend a term of accreditation which will be acted upon by the Accrediting Commission for both WASC and NLSA. A term of recommendation is the period of time that best reflects the degree to which (1) the school is a trustworthy institution of learning and (2) the school is implementing an improvement process that will improve student learning. Current terms are six years; six years with a one-day review; three years, two years, one year; or denial. The Commission reserves the right to grant additional conditions of accreditation other than those listed above. Such action will follow a Commission review of the Visiting Committee Report.

An accreditation term will be based upon a school demonstrating the following:

1. Involvement and collaboration of stakeholders in the self-study that accomplishes the five parameters of the self-study.
2. The defining of the school’s purpose through expected schoolwide learning results (schoolwide learner outcomes) and academic standards.
3. The use of a professionally acceptable assessment process to collect, disaggregate, and analyze student performance data.
4. The acceptable progress by all students toward clearly defined expected schoolwide learning results (schoolwide learner outcomes), academic standards, and other institutional and/or governing authority expectations.
5. An Organization for Student Learning that supports high achievement for all students.
6. Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment that supports high achievement for all students.
7. Support for Student Personal and Academic Growth that supports high achievement for all students.
8. Resource Management and Development that supports high achievement for all students.
9. The alignment of a long-range schoolwide action plan to the school’s areas of greatest need to support high achievement of all students.
10. The capacity to monitor and implement the schoolwide action plan.
11. The use of prior accreditation findings and other pertinent data to ensure high achievement of all students and drive school improvement.
Visiting Committee Report Format

Chapter I: Student/Community Profile

- Briefly summarize the most critical information from the student/community profile that impacts the school. Include the following:
  - Brief description of the students and community served by the school
  - School analysis of student achievement data
  - Other pertinent data

Note: The entire profile does not need to be included.

- Comment on significant findings revealed by the profile and/or pertinent items that were not included in the profile.

Chapter II: Progress Report (suggested length: 2 pages)

- Briefly comment on the school’s major changes and follow-up process since the last self-study.

- Discuss how the school through its action plan has accomplished each of the critical areas for follow-up, including the impact on student learning.

Chapter III: Self-Study Process (suggested length: 1½ pages)

- Comment on the school’s self-study process with respect to the parameters and accuracy.
  - Did the school accomplish the five parameters of the self-study? (See Focus on Learning, page 4 or Reference Card #1)
  - Does the self-study accurately reflect the school’s program for students?
  - Does the observable evidence reflect a sampling of what ALL students are doing and producing with respect to the WASC/NLSA criteria and the school’s expected schoolwide learning results (schoolwide learner outcomes)?
  - Does the observable evidence support the school’s identified areas for growth?

Chapter IV: Quality of the School’s Program

Part A: For each category:

  A. Organization for Student Learning
  B. Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment
  C. Support for Student Personal and Academic Growth
  D. Resource Management and Development
• Summarize an analysis of what currently exists and its impact on student learning (suggested length: 10–20 pages)
  – highlight areas of strength (if any) – highlight the key issues (if any) that need to be addressed to ensure quality education for all students
  – list important evidence about student learning from the self-study and the visit that supports these strengths and key issues

Part B: Synthesize the strengths and key issues from all categories into schoolwide strengths and schoolwide critical areas for follow-up. Include the information given below (suggested length: 2 pages).
  – general comments about the emerging schoolwide strengths and critical areas for follow-up.
  – schoolwide areas of strength (list numerically) Be sure that these can be documented by other sections of the report.
  – schoolwide critical areas for follow-up that will do the following: (list numerically) Be sure that these can be documented by other sections of the report.
    • support those areas already identified by the school in the action plan sections
    • strengthen those identified areas in the action plan sections
    • address additional areas identified by the Visiting Committee. This includes areas related to student achievement and other profile data, the school program and operation, and the action plan.

Chapter V: Ongoing School Improvement (suggested length: 2 pages)
• Include a brief summary of the schoolwide action plan.
• Comment on the following school improvement issues:
  – adequacy of the schoolwide action plan in addressing the critical areas for follow-up
  Consider these questions:
    • Do the action plan sections address the critical areas for follow-up?
    • Will the action plan steps enhance student learning?
    • Is the action plan a “user-friendly” schoolwide action plan that has integrated all major school initiatives?
    • Is the action plan feasible within existing resources?
    • Is there sufficient commitment to the action plan, schoolwide and system wide?
  – existing factors that will support school improvement – impediments to school improvement that the school will need to overcome in order to accomplish any of the action plan sections – soundness of the follow-up process that the school intends to use for monitoring the accomplishment of the schoolwide action plan
Sample Schedule for Visit

The following sample schedule is provided for full self-study visits. This sample schedule should be adjusted by the school and the Visiting Committee (VC) Chair to fit the local situation. In this process, it is very important to allow enough time for extensive dialogue with the Schoolwide Focus Groups and the Leadership Team; this discussion will include the examination of evidence used to determine growth needs by the stakeholders. The focus of the subject area and support staff meetings will be to understand their information and evidence that led support to the schoolwide findings. The VC chairperson should be in regular communication with the chief administrator and self-study coordinator to discuss the progress of the visit.

School Coordinator Guidelines: Follow-up Checklist

- After the visit the SC and chief administrator meet immediately with the Leadership Team to review the Visiting Committee Report and begin the follow-up process.

The Leadership Team coordinates the refining and implementation of the action steps for each section of the schoolwide action plan. The narrative suggestions and critical areas for follow-up left by the Visiting Committee should be integrated into the schoolwide action plan. A copy of the modified schoolwide action plan must be sent to the WASC office by June 1:

Accrediting Commission for Schools, WASC
533 Airport Boulevard, Suite 200
Burlingame, CA 94010

A copy of the modified action plan must also be sent to local LCMS district office by May 1.

Some schools may continue to use the Schoolwide Focus Groups as “change agent” committees in the follow-up process. The leadership team involves the total staff in annual assessment of progress, including data analysis about student learning in relation to expected schoolwide learning results and curricular objectives; this may result in modifications of the action plan. If the school annually reviews its plan and progress, the reports generated will comprise the major portion of the next self-study. Most schools will conduct one more annual review in relation to their expected schoolwide learning results, curricular objectives, and WASC/NLSA criteria and refine their action plan areas for the next three to five years.

- Submit the NLSA Annual Report each year to the local LCMS district office.
  This report should document the implementation of the action steps taken for the critical areas of follow-up as well as the ongoing progress of the schoolwide action plan. This report should be submitted to the local LCMS district office by given deadline.

- At the midpoint of the term of accreditation, the Leadership Team prepares a third year progress report summarizing the school’s major accomplishments of the schoolwide action plan and other changes since the visit.

The Governing Authority reads, reviews, and formally accepts the report which is forwarded to the Accrediting Commission for Schools. Depending upon the term of accreditation, a school may be required to have a one- or two-day review by two or more members of the original Visiting Committee.

Submission of this progress report and follow-up VC report should be submitted to the local LCMS district office in place of NLSA Annual Report in this midterm year.
WASC Accreditation Process: Ongoing Improvement

In preparation for the self-study every six years the school should be engaged in an ongoing improvement process. Below are brief comments about the ongoing nature of WASC accreditation that focus on student learning and school improvement. Utilization of the NLSA annual reporting process will focus and organize this process.

1. Annually update the student/community profile and discuss with all stakeholders.
2. Annually summarize progress on the schoolwide action plan sections, noting key evidence, and make any necessary modifications or refinements in the plan.
3. Periodically, review the schoolwide student goals (expected schoolwide learning results) and school purpose.
4. Synthesize all progress and complete a three-year progress report for submission to WASC; obtain Board approval of the report.
5. Host a midterm review if this is a condition of the accreditation term granted. (Note: If a school received a term of one, two, or three years, progress reports and one- or two-day revisits are conducted; the Commission then grants additional years of accreditation or denial.)
6. In preparation for the next self-study (usually 1-½ years prior to full visit), ensure that all stakeholders are knowledgeable of student achievement data and other current data, including progress on all aspects of the action plan. Utilize the following information with stakeholders:
   a. current, updated student/community profile, emphasizing student achievement, and other pertinent evidence noted during the annual progress reports on the action plan
   b. the operating schoolwide action plan
   c. all progress via reports (usually an ongoing summary of action plan progress on computer)
7. Using the WASC/NLSA criteria involve stakeholders through focus and home groups in the examination of the program using the information from the past years about student achievement and program changes (see #6). Gather and analyze any additional data/information needed.
8. Summarize key findings organized by the categories of criteria.
9. Revise the schoolwide action plan to show what will be accomplished during the forthcoming five to six years.
10. Finalize the Self-Study Report that will include:
    a. the current profile
    b. overall progress report
    c. schoolwide student learner outcomes (expected schoolwide learning results)
    d. findings and supporting evidence
    e. schoolwide action plan
Expected Schoolwide Learning Results
(Schoolwide Learner Outcomes)
Expected Schoolwide Learning Results
(Schoolwide Learner Outcomes)

Definition

What each student should know, understand and be able to do upon exit from the school, or by the time the student completes the planned program.

An expected schoolwide learning result (schoolwide learner outcome) of significance is one that as a result of meaningful and authentic learning experiences over time, learners will be able to exhibit a culmination of their learning in a real world context that has significant purpose and meaning for them and others over time (adapted from Fontana USD).

Descriptors

- global
- include all students
- must be able to assess
- cornerstone of school improvement
- cornerstone of Focus on Learning

Rationale

Working From Learning Results:

- Equips ALL students with the knowledge, competencies, and orientations needed for success in a thinking, meaning-centered curriculum.
- Enables teachers to implement programs and conditions that maximize learning success for ALL students in a standards-based curriculum.
- Provides schools with a means to restructure pedagogy in ways that facilitate student success in a thinking, standards-based curriculum (adapted from Fontana USD).
Establishing Expected Schoolwide Learning Results (Schoolwide Learner Outcomes): A Sample Procedure

- Invite stakeholders — staff, students, parents, business people, central office, school board, etc. Participants should sit at tables to encourage discussion.
- Overview of the entire process including “why.” Review the literature. (Participants are going to build a collective meaning of “learning results” and their purpose).
- Table groups discuss, “What are some purposes of the schoolwide learner outcomes?” (5 minutes) Then share briefly with the other groups.
- Table groups discuss “What should every student who leaves our school be able to do, know, understand or value to be successful in the real world?” (The wording here is critical).
  - Individuals write a maximum of 8 schoolwide learner outcomes (exit outcomes, outcomes of significance) (10 minutes).
  - Table groups create a consensus, composite list of 10 schoolwide learner outcomes (15 minutes). The individual results may be merged, dropped or kept intact to create the table’s list.
  - Tables pair up and create consensus, composite list of 12 schoolwide learner outcomes.
  - Post the composite lists of all table pairs and make one consensus composite list of 14 schoolwide learner outcomes maximum.
- Each group identifies which learning results are currently assessed formally and which are not.

Subsequent discussions should begin to address how those expected schoolwide learning results could be assessed in all classes, courses and subject areas.

The School’s Purpose Statement:

A strong core curriculum in the traditional disciplines forms the foundation which challenges and supports students to work hard on assignments to meet high standards. It engages students in the learning process so that they are active participants who can seek accuracy, apply their knowledge across areas of learning, and persist when answers are not apparent. In order for students to become independent learners, the following interdisciplinary expectations for lifelong learning have been developed:

1. Articulate ideas clearly, creatively, and effectively.
2. Develop meaningful questions.
3. Design and implement appropriate strategies to solve various problems.
4. Use the evaluation process by establishing and applying criteria to support judgment.
5. Work effectively as a member of a self-directed team.
6. Exhibit social responsibility.
7. Design, establish and pursue goals, both personal and professional.

Sample #4

Every student will demonstrate:

- Higher level thinking skills
- Active problem solving
- Effective communication
- Appropriate social skills
- Cooperative learning
- The ability to access resources
- The curiosity/desire to learn more
Gathering Evidence:
The Power of Reality
Gathering Evidence

Evidence gathering has the overall purpose of verifying the actual program for students and determining if students are successful learners. The basic ways to collect information are observations, interviews, and examination of pertinent information/data, including student work.

Observations

Observation is a critical step in the multi-method of approach of collecting information. Much insight is gained about questions that need to be asked during interviews through observing what is happening with students and adults. This is an active process that includes talking to students; looking at their work and records of their work, as available; and talking to the adults working with the students — teachers, instructional aides, and specialist teachers — in addition to observing. What to observe in instructional settings (classrooms, labs, resource centers, libraries, etc.) is determined by what information is needed. However, there are some initial observations that focus on the important instructional issues common to all curricular areas. These are:

- What the students are doing. Receiving information? Applying skills? Practicing newly acquired skills? Synthesizing and evaluating information? Waiting? Causing a disturbance?
- Are the students task oriented? Are they engaged in their work?
- Range of activities taking place from acquisition of factual knowledge to the use of higher level thinking skills.
- What sort of assignments do the students receive? How much time are the students actually spending on the assigned activity? Do they know what to do?
- How students are applying the skills of reading, writing, speaking, computing and thinking.
- How the students are challenged to think and to communicate their thoughts orally and in writing.
- How students with special needs are participating in the classroom activities.
- How the instructional settings are varied according to the needs of the student and/or what is to be learned.
As with observation in instructional settings, observation in other places (library, school offices, campus grounds, etc.) establishes a schoolwide sense of the culture of the school. Shadowing students or conducting student case studies can be an effective means of gathering observable data about the entire school program. Some of the additional aspects of school life to observe are:

- The interactions among staff and other stakeholders
- How students are supported and how they support others
- The extent to which the school values learning
- The interactions between staff and students
- Evidence of school pride
- How parents and community members contribute to the program
- What the school rules are and how they are enforced
- Ways students and staff are recognized and rewarded and recognize and reward others
- The interaction among the various age levels and groups of students
Interviews

Interviews are used as part of the accreditation process to find out information that is not directly observable, such as what has happened and what is planned. They are used to find out people’s beliefs, ideas, and intentions and to validate and expand prior information gained through observation and the review of documents such as the school’s curricular materials, the school plan, schoolwide policies, and so forth.

The following “Keep in Mind” summarizes some important points about interviews.

KEEP IN MIND

- There is no one “right way” to interview; there is no one correct format.
- There is no one “right way” to ask a question.
- LISTEN to responses; be an active listener.
- Explain purposes of questions.
- Keep initial questions simple and non-threatening.
- Use open-ended questions. Yes/no response questions set a feeling of interrogation and provide little information.
- Ask questions that will verify what you think you know and will add missing pieces of information.
- Ask questions that do not imply the answer, and that do not reflect the committee members’ biases.
- Use clear and concise language that is appropriate to the interviewee.
- Note-taking should record what is said — not committee members’ reactions.
- Allow adequate time for responses.
- Give appropriate feedback to responses.
- Do not assume that people understand what you are asking about – make sure they do.
- Do not push for answers at the expense of the interviewee.
- Be mindful of nonverbal feedback, i.e., facial expressions, turning away, and so on.
- Be alert to “clues” of interviewees and follow-up what is not being said.
Suggested questions to validate and expand prior information gained through observation and document review.

- How do the teachers, the administration, and the school community work together to have a shared vision of desirable educational outcomes for all students?
- How do the school’s educational practices and other activities facilitate equal access and successful educational and social outcomes for students who are learning English, economically disadvantaged, underachieving, gifted and talented, average ability and students receiving special education services?
- How are students actively engaged in learning the subject area?
- What evidence is there that the students are able to do the following?
  - think, reason, solve problems
  - construct meaning, make connections
  - be creative, be productive
  - communicate effectively through reading, writing, speaking, listening and drawing
- How often and in what ways do students apply their knowledge and conceptual understanding?
- How do teachers know whether their students have acquired a particular body of knowledge and can perform at a particular level?
- How is assessment integral to instruction? (e.g., helping students to analyze, evaluate and communicate).
- How do teachers use assessment to reflect on student academic achievement, effective teaching practices, program strengths and weaknesses and progress on curriculum and instructional implementation?
- How do staff members use a variety of student performance-based assessment techniques to adjust strategies and programs to best serve students? (e.g., more challenging learning activities).
- How do staff members allow for diversity in assessment? (e.g., students that have a developed primary language other than English).
- How are opportunities provided for parents, teachers, guidance staff and students to confer over students’ progress, choices and the possible consequences of their decisions?
- How are assessment results used by colleges and employers as indicators of successful preparation for advanced study or work?
Sample Student Interview Questions

- What kinds of projects do you do?
- How often do you work on a project alone?
- What kinds of problems do you solve?
- How often do you solve difficult but interesting problems for which there are often many possible answers?
- How often do you do research in the library and elsewhere with other students?
- Are the resources, such as books and other materials at your school, adequate for your research projects and other activities?
- How often do you talk about what you have just read with a group of students in your class?
- What kinds of oral reports do you put in your portfolio? Why?
- What kinds of homework do you have?
- What ways can you suggest to better show how and what you know?
Examination of Student Work

The examination of student work is integral to ongoing determination of successful student learning. Instructional staff members will be involved in this process individually and through discussions within and among disciplines; for example, those who teach the same courses or are at the same grade level may engage in dialogue. There are many ways to gather and analyze student work. Some specific examples of strategies that can be used by instructional staff members include:

- Conduct initial observations of students and engage in subsequent formal or informal interviews with individuals or groups of students. Use a guide that includes important schoolwide and program-related factors to be observed that has been developed by instructional staff members within the various school programs. In addition, involve staff in establishing ground rules for these observations. Similarly create a form containing a few quality questions that reflect important issues to address through student interviews.

- Examine student work to determine the nature, frequency and quality of work that the students are doing. This includes observation of students working.

Suggestions for collecting work:

- “high quality,” “medium quality, “ and “low quality” samples from each course
- representative students selected based upon the student /community profile information
- student work collection days for a program
- anonymous work from anonymous teachers
- schoolwide student work collection based on two or three students randomly selected from the teacher role sheet during a designated day and time

- Examine student work representative of the school population two to three times during the year to monitor growth over time.

- Develop a cover sheet to summarize key information resulting from the analysis of the representative student work.

Initially, the quality of student work may be examined with respect to course or discipline/program goals and objectives. However, ultimately, the student work analysis should also provide information about the degree to which the students are accomplishing the expected schoolwide learning results.

The following pages contain additional information about the examination of student work that will be helpful in school site training.

School Accreditation: An Ongoing Improvement Process

Accreditation fosters excellence and ongoing improvement in public and private schools. In a time of restructuring and the need for basic changes in the American school, the accreditation process is a dynamic, viable, catalytic process that provides an overarching structure for meaningful change. The process assures a school community that the school’s philosophy and expected learning results are appropriate and being accomplished through a viable educational program.

Accreditation empowers the school in its endeavor to provide a quality educational experience for all students. The accreditation process is integral and synonymous to school (and district) assessment, planning, implementation, and reassessment based upon a vision of successful student learning.

The WASC accreditation program is based upon several beliefs:

- Fundamental to accreditation is the quality of the educational program experienced by the students.
- A school assesses the appropriateness and the accomplishments of the student program with respect to its established philosophy and objectives.
- A school must give evidence of adequately meeting the WASC high-quality criteria that are general guidelines of an effective educational program and services. A school may also give evidence of meeting more specific standards consistent with its own philosophy.
- The most effective and meaningful evaluation of a total school program can be conducted by the staff and students of an individual school.

Because accreditation’s central tenet is that a school operates with a clear understanding of its purposes and mission, the process enables a school to reflect upon and respond to essential questions:

What do we want our students to know and be able to do? What are the learning experiences needed to produce these outcomes? As a result of this process, schools develop and refine long-range and short-range goals and their accompanying action steps. These goals are then implemented and assessed in a perpetual cycle of instructional improvements for students.
Essential elements of school improvement are incorporated into the accreditation process. These elements include:

- The involvement of total staff and school community in self-directed problem-solving;
- The opportunity for meaningful dialogue of ideas, collaboration and shared decision-making;
- The use of high-quality criteria/standards/practices for an effective educational program;
- The advantage of an additional dimension/perspective from the Visiting Committee as the school redefines and establishes its goals and accompanying action steps;
- The supportive encouragement of the ongoing assessment and follow-up through accreditation progress reports and reviews.

Thus, accreditation provides the means for a school to attain curricular improvement, strategic planning, staff development and restructuring.
The Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) is one of six regional accrediting associations in the United States, works closely with the U.S. Department of State, Office of Overseas Schools, and is known worldwide. This regional association provides assistance to schools located in California, Hawaii, Guam, the Commonwealth of the Northern Marianas, American Samoa, the Federated States of Micronesia, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, Fiji, and East Asia. WASC consists of three commissions that accredit different levels of education: (1) four-year universities, e.g., Stanford University; (2) two-year community/junior colleges; and (3) pre-K-12 schools.

The Accrediting Commission for Schools, WASC, extends its services to over 4000 public, independent, church-related, and proprietary pre-K-12 and adult schools, works with 15 different associations in joint accreditation processes, and collaborates with other organizations, such as the California and Hawaii Association of Independent Schools, International Baccalaureate Organisation (IBO), Association of Christian Schools International, Pacific Union Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists, and the Western Catholic Educational Association. The Accrediting Commission for Schools extends its services to public, independent, church-related, and proprietary schools of the following levels and types: elementary schools; junior high/middle/intermediate schools, comprehensive/college preparatory high schools, continuation high schools, alternative high schools, occupational/vocational high schools, regional occupational programs/centers, adult schools, and vocational skill centers. Many of the schools accredited also include postsecondary courses, e.g., courses which require a high school diploma or G.E.D.

This association is composed of three commissions:

1. Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities
2. Accrediting Commission for Community and Junior Colleges
3. Accrediting Commission for Schools

The Accrediting Commission for Schools is composed of thirty-one representatives from educational organizations appointed as follows:

Candidacy or Interim Accreditation Process

Candidate for accreditation is a status of affiliation, which indicates that an institution has achieved initial recognition and is progressing toward, but does not assume, accreditation. The candidate for accreditation classification is designed for institutions, which are not yet ready for full evaluation based on the WASC criteria for accreditation. The institution must demonstrate evidence of sound planning and show evidence of the resources to implement its plan. The school must also be willing to meet WASC criteria for accreditation in a reasonable time.

Both public and private schools must meet the legal requirements of the jurisdiction in which they are located in order for their application for WASC affiliation to be considered. California private schools must list with the California Department of Education submitting an affidavit indicating compliance with Education Code Section 33190. Likewise, Hawaii private schools must be licensed by the Hawaii Council of Private Schools, or certified by the Western Catholic Educational Association and accredited in association with WASC, under the authority of Act 188, Session Laws of Hawaii, 1995. Schools in other jurisdictions may have other specific requirements with which they must comply.

On receipt of the application for accreditation by WASC, the Executive Director will arrange with the institution for a two-member team to conduct a one-day visit to the school. At this time the team will evaluate if the school is eligible for accreditation. Following the visit, the committee will prepare a report to be presented to the Accrediting Commission for Schools at its next meeting, at which time the Commission will act upon the application. The school will then be notified of the action of the Commission.

If the decision is favorable, the school will be granted candidacy status not to exceed three years. Normally, the school will be expected to undergo their full self-study (full accreditation process) in their third year of candidacy. Candidacy status shall expire at the end of three years, but may be extended one additional year by Commission action, following a revisit.

Schools in an established district or diocese where at least one school is already accredited, or well-established schools with a record of high performance credibility, may be granted a three-year initial term of accreditation by the Executive Director, after a satisfactory one-day initial visit to the school conducted by a two-member team. The written report is reviewed by the Commission along with the Executive Director’s decision regarding interim accreditation status.

Independent study high schools must go through candidate status, even though they may be part of an established public school district. The Commission has approved ten minimum criteria for candidacy of independent study high schools. (Bylaws, 1991)
Full Accreditation Process

Each institution is evaluated on the basis of the WASC/NLSA criteria and the appropriateness of the school’s stated purpose, schoolwide learning results and the degree to which it accomplishes these.

The full accreditation process has three stages: the self-study, the visit, the follow-up. A school’s philosophy and the WASC/NLSA criteria serve as the underlying bases for these stages.

LCMS schools seeking dual accreditation will use documentation that embraces and integrates the high quality of WASC accreditation with an intentional study of the Lutheran cultural identity of schools operating in The Lutheran Church – Missouri Synod.

The entire staff and representatives of the student body and community are involved in the preparation of the self-study, which is accomplished over a period of several months. WASC provides special self-study coordinator workshops to assist schools in conducting the self-study. During this phase, all staff members candidly assess the school’s strengths and areas needing improvement with respect to the criteria. Basically, the steps of the self-study are:

1. Understand the school improvement purpose of the self-study
2. Analyze/understand the criteria
3. Develop, clarify and assess accomplishment of schoolwide learning expectations for students.
4. Compare the school program to the criteria
   a. Collect and analyze verifying information
   b. Analyze and deliberate the results of the comparison
   c. Agree on the status of the program
   d. Agree on strengths and areas for improvement
5. Develop a schoolwide action plan to increase the effectiveness of the program for students
   a. Decide on priorities based on self-study findings
   b. Discuss possible solution steps
   c. Agree on the action to be taken, by whom and when
   d. Agree on ways to monitor and assess progress

Working through numerous committees, staff members summarize their finding of this in-depth assessment which becomes part of a school Self-Study Report. At least four to six weeks prior to the visit, this completed self-study is shared with members of a Visiting Committee composed of fellow educators.
Full Self-Study Visit

The Visiting Committee is usually composed of three to four people, one of whom is the chairperson. Members of the Visiting Committee will have attended special accreditation workshops conducted by WASC and NLSA.

Subsequent to analyzing the Self-Study Report, the Visiting Committee spends three and one-half days at the school to provide an outside perspective on the quality of the curricular and instructional program provided for students. The visiting team members review student performance data, confer separately with each school committee, observe the school in operation, visit classes, and dialogue with individual administrators, teachers, students and others. Then the Visiting Committee prepares a report for the school outlining its findings.

After the Visiting Committee Report is discussed with the school steering committee and shared with the entire staff, it is formally submitted to the school; the WASC Commission, and the NLSA National Accreditation Commission (NAC). The Visiting Committee also recommends a term of accreditation based upon the school’s purpose, the WASC/NLSA criteria, the self-study, and its findings during the visit.
Commission Action and School Follow-up

The Accrediting Commission for Schools meets at regularly scheduled times to consider accreditation for the schools. Prior to each meeting, the Commission members review the Visiting Committee reports and the recommended terms for the schools. At these sessions, the school’s self-studies are available for reference. The resulting decision of the Commission on a term of accreditation for each school is the composite judgment of the Commission members after examining the data concerning the school.

The term of accreditation is based in part upon the appropriateness of the school’s stated purpose, goals and objectives for an institution of its type and the degree to which these are being met.

The other determinant for accreditation is the degree to which the school meets the WASC/NLSA criteria that are established as general guidelines to determine the effectiveness of a school’s educational program and services.

The Commission also takes into consideration the following: the degree to which the school addressed recommendations of the last Visiting Committee; the school’s use of appropriate student outcome measures to demonstrate evidence of student learning and success; the degree of involvement of all members of the school community in development of the self-study; and the capacity of the school to implement a schoolwide action plan resulting in ongoing improvement.

The cycle of self-study, visit and follow-up is normally repeated every six years, a full term. However, schools may receive lesser terms or be required to take and report on remedial actions as a condition of continual accreditation. To support and encourage continual school improvement, the Commission will communicate with school during the cycle through written reports and short visits.

Only Commission decisions regarding terms of accreditation of three years or less may be appealed. Any such appeal must be made by the chief administrator(s) of the district and school by letter specifying the basis for the appeal within sixty days after notification of the Commission action.
Why is Accreditation Important?

- The accreditation process validates the integrity of a school’s program and student transcripts.
- Accreditation fosters excellence and ongoing improvement in public and private schools.
- The accreditation process assures a school community that the school’s purposes are appropriate and being accomplished through a viable educational program.
- Accreditation is integral to school/district improvement, strategic planning, restructuring, and staff development.
- Accreditation is a way to manage change through regular assessment, planning, implementation and reassessment.
- Accreditation helps a school/district to establish its priority areas for improvement.
- Through the self-study, the school site visit and the ongoing follow-up, the school staff determines areas of strength and areas for improvement based upon its vision of schoolwide learner outcomes.
- Accreditation enables a school to establish and implement a three to five year improvement plan as a result of the perpetual accreditation cycle that includes:
  - school self-assessment of the current educational program for students.
  - insight and perspective from the Visiting Committee.
  - regular school staff assessment of progress through the intervening years between full self-studies.
Parameters of Self-Study

Through the completion of the accreditation process the school will have accomplished:

1. the involvement and collaboration of stakeholders in the self-study

2. the clarification of the school’s purpose and the schoolwide learner outcomes

3. the assessment of the actual student program and its impact on the student learning with respect to the criteria and the schoolwide learner outcomes

4. the development of a schoolwide action plan that integrates subject area/program and support plans to address identified growth needs

5. the development and implementation of an accountability system for monitoring the accomplishment of the action plan
