ACS WASC Supplement for Online Programs/Courses

Introduction

The Accrediting Commission for Schools of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (ACS WASC) has created this ACS WASC Online Program/Course Supplement for the ACS WASC-affiliated accreditation agencies that use their own protocol for accreditation and do not have specific criteria for online programs/courses.*

It is expected that schools that are either primarily online or those that offer blended programs with both traditional on-site classes and online options will complete the ACS WASC Online Programs/Courses Report and attach it to their accreditation report in preparation of the joint accreditation visit.

Schools should respond to all questions in a narrative format to provide the Visiting Committee with the information it needs to review the school's online component. A template for the report is available and can be obtained from the ACS WASC office.

Purpose

This ACS WASC supplement has been created to work in concert with the accreditation manuals from affiliate partners. Each affiliate accreditation process has been approved by the ACS WASC Commission and has an established cross-walk of standards to ensure that all criteria meets both the affiliate standards and ACS WASC criteria. For schools who have an online or blended program, this supplement provides the basis for creating a report that can be evaluated by an accreditation visiting committee.

The result of the accreditation process for schools with online programs/courses will be a full response to the criteria/standards established by each affiliate as well as a full response to the ACS WASC criteria established for the online learning community. The inclusion of online programs/courses in the accreditation process will be a way to not only show integrity and trustworthiness, but also to provide for continual ongoing improvement and accountability for these programs and courses.

*This supplement is not an appropriate for stand-alone PSPs or individual students in the home school environment.
